

Apollinaris

THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS.

Bottled on at the Apollinaris Spring,
Nuenahr, Germany,
and Only with its Own Natural Gas.

OUR CELEBRATED

BUCK BEER

Will Be on Tap

At Our Customers' To-Day.

Central Prk and E. St. Louis Sunday.

CENTRAL BREWING CO.

DON'T FORGET

At 8 A.M.
The Clothing
of the Year

$100,00

QUITS POSITION UNDER PRESSURE

Waller Edwards Resigns as Secretary of Board of Public Improvements at Phillips's Request—Successor Not Chosen.

Owing to friction in the Board of Public Improvements which has been existing since before the election, Waller Edwards, the secretary, yesterday handed in his resignation to take effect immediately. F. W. Vaillant, Sewer Commissioner, will take up the duties of secretary tomorrow.

Mr. Edwards's resignation was the result of a caucus Thursday afternoon among members of the board and a visit from President Phillips yesterday morning. It is said that President Phillips, after assuring himself of his authority by a visit to Collected Bates, called on Secretary Edwards yesterday morning and said that a resignation would be acceptable.

Secretary Edwards is said to have agreed to resign yesterday in consideration with the result that his resignation was tendered. The board accepted the resignation without a dissenting vote. It is usual for it to customary to appoint the person of the board to act as secretary interim.

President Phillips said that he was unable to find a successor to Edwards. Phillips's successor, probably will be approved next Tuesday at the Council meeting, and then will take charge of the office.

The talk about the City Hall is, however, that he has not promised the secretary Bates will have to be approved by Mayor Wells.

SOLDIERS ALLEGED TO HAVE DRIVEN FARMER FROM HOME

Jefferson Barracks Recruits Bring Back From Virginia and Delivers to County Authorities.

Hugh O'Brien and George Kuehne, recruits at Jefferson Barracks, who are alleged to have driven Theodore Fiedeman, a farmer near that place, out of his home about six weeks ago, were yesterday turned over to Commandant John E. Schaper of Carondelet Township.

The men were brought back from Fort Meyer, Va., by the Jefferson Barracks authorities on a nominal charge of leaving the post without permission. A charge of disturbance of the peace has been placed against them by the sixth district attorney. They were brought to St. Louis to meet two girls who escaped from the House of Refuge. While wandering through the country they came to St. Louis, where they are alleged to have sold him alone that they are alleged to have promised him to vacate and surrender themselves to them. The order was given to keep them in jail until they could be tried.

Fiedeman went to the nearest Justice of the Peace, but by the time he returned to his home, the men and their compatriots had gone.

You had better come in the morning, as the Bolger Maths are crowded after noon or come at night always open.

SCHOOLBOYS IN RACE FIGHT.

Whites and Negroes Battle With Stones.

White and negro boys fought with stones at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street yesterday morning, but none was hurt. Four of the negro lads will go to the Juvenile Court to answer to charges of disturbing the peace.

Patrick Dow, 11 years old, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Policeman Kuehne stopped the boys and the fighting stopped. Major H. C. Miller, 30, of No. 202 Franklin street, Albermarle, Tenn., started a race between the two groups of boys, and the race was won by the negroes.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street, where boys were on their way to a grocery. When they passed the Banker School, at Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, which was being repaired, a fight started and rocks were seen flying in the air.

Patrick Dow, 11, of No. 202 North Main street, Hilliard, Ohio, was on Thomas street,